7 Arab States Confer on Truce Plea

Jerusalem Fighting Continues

U. N. Grants 48-Hour Delay

CAIRO — (AP) — Heavy fighting continued in and around Jerusalem today while political representatives of the seven Arab states met in Trans-Jordan to consider a United Nations request for a truce in Palestine.

The Jewish army reported in Tel Aviv that Jewish forces recaptured Ramat Rehel, Jewish village halfway between Jerusalem and Bethlehem, where a strong Arab assault yesterday routed Jewish defenders. Haganah also said the Jewish air force bombed enemy positions around Jerusalem just after midnight.

Arabs resumed shelling Ramat Rehel, the Jewish communique said. The village was taken yesterday in an attack by two Egyptian companies, forces of King Abdullah's Trans-Jordan legion and Arab irregulars, supported by field guns.

Haganah regrouped its forces and counter-attacked. Casualties were reported heavy on both sides.

Prior to their conference at Amman, King Abdullah's capital, Arab leaders indicated they will stop shooting only if Zionists give up the idea of a sovereign Jewish state and disband the Jewish army. The Jews were considered certain to reject such demands.

EXTENDS DEADLINE

The U.N. security council last night extended until noon tomorrow the deadline for a cease fire in the Arab-Jewish warfare. Egypt and Syria asked the 48-hour extension and no delegates opposed it.

The Arabs are under pressure from the British to stop fighting. A foreign office spokesman in London said Britain had warned the Arab states she expects them to observe the U.N. request.

Failure to comply might lead to suspension of treaty commitments to the Arab states, such as the supplying of arms and military training to King Abdullah's Trans-Jordan Arab legion, government sources in London said.

There was a chance the United Nations might get word from Amman of an Arab decision sometime today. Faris El Khoury of Syria told the security council the political committee of the Arab league representing the seven Arab nations would disclose their attitude no later than tomorrow noon.

Hill's Trial Set June 14

MEDINA—(INS)—Clark Hill, 19-year-old Medina youth, will be tried by a jury June 14 on the first-degree murder charge growing out of the "love potion" death of pretty Jeannette Weimer, 17, of nearby Mogadore.

Clark's counsel, Attorney Raymond Bennett, former Medina county prosecutor, appeared in common pleas court today and was given his choice of a trial by jury or before a panel of three judges. He chose the former.

The names of 75 county residents were ordered drawn and the jury will be selected from their number when the trial opens.

The girl died of carbon monoxide poisoning in Clark's car on a lonely country lane near Lodi. In a signed statement to authorities Hill admitted running a hose from the exhaust into his car after Miss Weimer became unconscious from an aphrodisiac which he gave to her in a milk shake. Hill also admitted being intimate with the girl.

The accused youth later recanted his story of how Miss Weimer met her death April 10.

City Income Tax Plan Considered

YOUNGSTOWN—(AP)—Youngstown city councilmen, failing last night to develop any other program to meet a half-million dollar deficit, this week will consider adoption of the "Toledo plan" one per cent income tax.

Voters turned down a 2½ mill levy on real estate at the recent primary.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Mrs. Rebecca Bancroft, 101, died here yesterday.

Congress Poll Puts Taft First

WASHINGTON — (UP) — A magazine poll showed today that members of Congress believe Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio or Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan would make the best president in the field of seven candidates for the Republican nomination.

Taft was first choice in the poll, with Vandenberg a close second. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was third. Then came in order were House Speaker Joseph W. Martin jr., Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Harold E. Stassen and Gov. Earl Warren of California.

The poll was conducted by U. S. News & World Report, an independent weekly news magazine published here. It was limited to Republican candidates, but both Republican and Democratic members of Congress were polled.

Each member of Congress was asked to label each of seven GOP candidates "very good," "fair" or "poor" in answer to the question: "What kind of a President would each of these men make?"

Fifty-five senators and 274 representatives answered the poll. Sixty per cent of those voting gave Taft the "very good" rating, 28 per cent "fair," and 12 per cent "poor." Vandenberg was close behind with 56, 32 and 12 per cent, respectively.

Temperature Rise Seen

40 Degrees Reported In Mansfield Area

Mansfielders can quit shivering. The cool wave is on its way out of Ohio.

So says weatherman C. G. Andrus of Cleveland, who predicts that it will be "very pleasant"—at least until Friday. We may get some rain then, cooling off the air for the week-end.

Mansfield escaped the near freezing temperatures which hit Cleveland and northern Ohio again today. Cleveland recorded a low of 37, the coldest May 25 since 1907. It was 35 at Perry and 36 at East Liverpool. Mansfield's low was 40 degrees at 5:30 a. m.

Little or no damage was believed caused by the light frost which seemed more apparent on auto tops than on vegetation.

Mansfield area farmers and gardeners report the ground is too cold for the rapid germination of seeds and the growth of warm weather crops is being delayed by the cold.

The five-day forecast for Ohio follows:

Temperatures will average normal to two degrees above. Normal maximum is 71-73. Normal minimum is 50-52. Somewhat warmer Wednesday and Thursday. Moderately warm Friday. Cooler Saturday and Sunday. Precipitation amounts ranging one-quarter to one-half inch. Showers or thunderstorms beginning Friday and ending Saturday.

Court Backs Right to Sue

CINCINNATI —(INS)—A veteran's right to collect civil damages for being overcharged for a house built under GI regulations was upheld today by the sixth circuit court of appeals.

The court reversed a decision by Federal District Judge John H. Druffel in Cincinnati. Druffel had ruled that criminal action offered the only recourse.

The suit was filed by John B. Heinicke against Joseph Parr, Merle Butler, Mary McKnight and Roberta Hahn, all of Cincinnati. It charges that a house, constructed of priority materials under the veterans' housing program, was sold to Heinicke for $12,000. Its listed price was $8,500. The circuit court sent the case back to Judge Druffel for retrial.

Methodists Open Ohio Conference

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio Methodists opened their seven-day annual state conference today in the Broad Street Methodist church.

The Rev. Leslie D. Vesey of Bowling Green was to address the first session this afternoon.

Lewis Ordered To Court

Risks Third Contempt Fine

WASHINGTON — (AP) — John L. Lewis's refusal to bargain a new contract with the Southern Coal Producers association could put him in contempt of court next week for the third time in 18 months.

Lewis and the United Mine Workers already have been fined $2,130,000 for ignoring back-to-work orders in strikes of December, 1946, and April, 1948.

The same judge who imposed those fines, T. Alan Goldsborough, will decide next Tuesday whether Lewis should be put under a new court order.

This one would be an injunction to keep the UMW boss from continuing to snub President Joseph E. Moody of the Southern Coal Producers association. Last week's short-lived contract talks broke up over that issue.

Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations board, stepped into the case late yesterday at Moody's request.

He filed a complaint against Lewis, accusing him of an unfair labor practice under the Taft-Hartley law.

This complaint will be heard by an NLRB trial examiner, a time-consuming process.

ASKS FOR ORDER

So Denham instructed NLRB attorneys to go into Goldsborough's court and ask for (a) an immediate restraining order designed to start the wage talks again within five days and (b) a "show cause" hearing on why an outright injunction should not be issued until the NLRB rules on the unfair labor practice charge.

Goldsborough rejected the first request, but granted the second and set the hearing for June 1.

If Lewis fails to show cause and the judge issues the injunction, the mine union chief will be faced with the choice of complying or running the risk of a third contempt action.

In his complaint, Denham charged Lewis both with refusing to bargain with the southern association and trying to coerce employers in the choice of a bargaining agent.

Weizmann Gets 'Hope'

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Chaim Weizmann, Israel's provisional president, said President Truman gave him "some sort of hope" today the American government may lift its ban on arms shipments to the Middle East.

Weizmann, here as the official guest of the American government, talked with Mr. Truman for 30 minutes at the White House.

He related to a news conference afterwards that he told the President the lifting of the arms embargo is "essential for the safety" of the Jews fighting off Arab attacks in Palestine.

In answer to questions, he said he got the impression the President might grant his request in the not too distant future.

The United States now bans shipment of military equipment to any part of the Middle East. The Jews contend this works a hardship particularly on them. They say the Arabs are able to get arms elsewhere.

HUNTING BODY—Helmeted divers continued today to search the mud bottom of Charles Mill reservoir in an effort to recover the body of Mrs. Mary Katherine Allen, 24, of Cleveland. Mrs. Allen drowned Saturday when a boat overturned. Here John Drotar, diver of Cleveland, prepares to make one of several trips to the lake bottom. His diving partner, Richard Boyce, lends him a hand from a raft on which three brothers of Mrs. Allen assisted in the diving operations. The brothers are Michael Carlin, Jack Carlin (only his hat visible), and Denny Carlin, all of Cleveland.—(N-J photo)

Hunt For Parents Fruitless

'Baby Wendell' Goes To Children's Home

The baby everybody wants to adopt was taken to the Richland County Children's home yesterday afternoon from Mansfield General hospital.

"Baby Wendell Stephens," within a few days, will be placed in a licensed boarding home, Mrs. Laura Reece, chairman of the Richland County Child Welfare board and matron of the Children's Home, explained.

Adoption for the baby abandoned in a parked automobile near General hospital May 10 is still a long way off, Mrs. Reece said.

A note left with the baby identified him as "Wendell Stevens" and said he was born April 15, 1948.

Police have worked for two weeks to find the child's parents. The search is continuing. Several clues have proved unproductive, police said.

Mrs. Reece said at least 100 calls have been received from persons wanting to adopt the child. "That's a conservative figure," she added hastily.

"We can't do anything about adoption proceedings until the police and other authorities feel they have done everything possible to trace the parents," Mrs. Reece said.

Mrs. Reece said the baby would be in the home only a few days and then put in a foster home.

The boarding home will be one licensed by the state, where the baby will have a mother's care, Mrs. Reece said.

Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer has given the board temporary commitment of the baby. This is done when there is still a possibility of finding the parents.

If, after a reasonable time, the parents aren't found and permanent commitment is given the board, the child may be placed for adoption.

"But the child won't be adopted for at least a year," Mrs. Reece said. The baby will be examined by pedatricians and psychiatrists since nothing is known of its background.

Meat Firms In Operation

CHICAGO — (UP) — The Swift, Cudahy and Armour packing companies called more employes back to work today and officials said the meat plants might be back in full production by the end of the week.

However, pickets still marched before the plants of Wilson and company, against which the CIO United Packinghouse Workers union is continuing its long strike after settling with the three other firms.

Experts expected farmers to send more big shipments of meat animals to market today. Prices were expected to rise again as buyers for the big packers stepped up the pace of their bidding to match the increased operations.

At Waterloo, Ia., 4,500 members of the union voted by a 97 per cent margin last night to stay on strike against the Rath Packing company, an independent firm.

The Rath plant was the scene of violent rioting last week in which a non-striker killed a picket and wounded a bystander. A. T. Stephens, union district director, said negotiations between the union and company would be resumed tomorrow.

TAYLOR TALKS TO POPE

VATICAN CITY — (AP) — Pope Pius XII received Myron C. Taylor, President Truman's personal ambassador to the Holy See, in private audience today.

Divers Again Hunt Body

Shoreline Checked At Charles Mill

An early morning check of the Charles Mill reservoir shore line was made today in a renewed effort to find the body of a woman drowned Saturday afternoon. Officials conducted the hunt in the belief the body might have risen from the woman's watery grave.

Kenneth Wassem, operator of Wassem's boat service said the body could rise to the surface after 48 hours.

Divers pressed into service yesterday continued to search the lake bottom today.

The woman, Mrs. Mary Katherine Allen, 24, of Cleveland, drowned at the lake following a picnic party on an island at the reservoir.

Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Evelyn Knox and John Miske, both also of Cleveland, were saved from an upset rowboat by Miles D. McCarty, lake patrolman, but McCarty's craft then upset when one of those he rescued shifted positions in the boat.

The divers were employed by the deceased woman's father, Dennis Carlin of Cleveland, Wassem said. Two boats also were used in dragging operations.

Gov. Osborn Dies at 64

PHOENIX, Ariz. —(AP)— Gov. Sidney P. Osborn of Arizona died early today at his home after an illness of 18 months. He was 64.

He suffered from progressive muscular atrophy.

Gov. Osborn, a Democrat, was serving his fourth successive two-year term as head of state. Member of a prominent pioneer family, he was born in Phoenix and spent almost all his life here. He was a newspaper publisher before taking office as governor.

His wife, mother, and a daughter survive.

Widow, 90, Will Wed Beau, 37

BRUSHTON, N. Y.—(AP)—Wedding plans are in the making for a widow who figures she's past 90 and her 37-year-old beau.

Clarence McGee "hasn't been courting me very long," Mrs. Eliza Murray said yesterday. "But Clarence and I like one another well enough to get married and that's just what we plan to do."

But her 68-year-old son, James, who lives with her won't call McGee "father."

"I'm a little too old for that now," the son observed.

Higher Pay For Health Chief Urged

Board to Request City, County OK

The city health board moved today to raise the salary for the city-county health commissioner.

It arranged to meet Thursday with city council's finance committee and the county budget commission to request an increase in the $6,090 a year salary fixed for the position.

The fact that the salary paid jointly by Mansfield and Richland county is below the level of most other Ohio counties has made it difficult, board members explained, to find a successor to Dr. F. O. Tonney, who resigned effective March 1.

Tuscarawas county, for instance, pays its health commissioner more than $7,000 a year.

Dr. Tonney now is health director of the Shelby-Effingham Bi-county health district at Shelbyville, Ill.

A West Virginia man, holding a master's degree in public health, has promised to come to Mansfield for an interview in the near future. One board member said the West Virginian would be in Mansfield Saturday.

Dr. John D. Porterfield, state health director, said recently that unless Mansfield employes a new health commissioner by July 1, or shows a valid reason why it has not secured the services of one, the health district may lose $18,000 in federal grants-in-aid.

Soviet Veto Score Goes Up To 25

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(INS)—Russia's total of vetoes in the United Nations was increased to 25 today as a result of Soviet action to bar U.N. inquiries into the communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko cast two "noes" late yesterday to block a probe of the February coup.

He resorted to this big five privilege in the security council twice in succession to block a major decision of its members.

The first veto swung by Gromyko was to block a decision of eight to two, with one abstention, that establishment of a sub-committee is in itself only a procedural step and consequently not subject to the veto.

The second veto came on the Chilean resolution itself on the establishment of the sub-committee. The vote was 9 to 2, with Russia and the Ukraine voting negatively.

Burglars Take $60 From Club

Two men, seen running from the DAV club early today, were believed by police to have looted the club of $60 in quarters and dimes.

The burglary was discovered at 2:08 a. m. when John Richard, night watchman at The News-Journal, told police he believed the DAV club had been entered. Two witnesses told police they saw two men run north on North Walnut street, but could give no description of the fleeing men.

Police found the glass in the front door on the Walnut street side broken out and the second floor of the club ransacked. Virgil Mapes, club manager, said he believed the loot was confined to $60 in dimes and quarters.

Pay Scale Linked To Expenses

Cost of Living Formula Devised

DETROIT — (AP) — General Motors corporation today granted an unique 11-cent an hour wage boost to avert a strike of its 225,000 CIO production workers.

The company said the formula would cost it about $75,000,000 a year. But GM called it "the new approach to the living cost problem."

A GM strike had been set for Friday by the CIO United Auto Workers.

Not only was the walkout averted, but the settlement raised hopes for a quick end to the 14-day-old strike of 75,000 Chrysler corporation employes.

On the basis of past history, it appeared that the GM formula may set a 1948 wage pattern in the 1,000,000-man auto industry and other important segments of the nation's economy.

Chrysler has agreed to resume bargaining with the UAW-CIO Wednesday. Their best previous Chrysler offer to the union was six cents an hour.

The other member of the auto industry's big three, the Ford Motor company, is scheduled soon to begin talking wages with the union.

General Motors and the union were closeted for 18 hours before announcing the settlement.

It brings the average wage in General Motors' 90 plants to about $1.61 an hour. The UAW-CIO originally asked GM for a 25-cent an hour increase.

General Motors would not say whether the wage increase would affect its car prices.

The wage formula gives the GM employes a flat 11-cent an hour boost as of now.

REVISION POSSIBLE

However, the union agreed that on next Sept. 1 the company may revise this figure upward or downward—a cut or a boost—depending on the cost of living by then.

If costs go up, they will get a boost above 11 cents. If they go down, the company may cut the 11-cent figure but not by more than five cents.

If living costs drop, the worst a GM employe would take would be a cut back in his base wage to $1.56 an hour. However, the contract provides that he gets another three cents an hour a year from now regardless of what living costs do.

Thus in the second year of the new contract, his base wage at a minimum would be no less than $1.59 an hour.

If living costs go up by September, there is no ceiling on the GM wages. They would be increased by whatever amount living costs rise. A company official said this might total any sum—five cents, 25 cents or higher.

Because of the unique wage adjustment system, there is no provision for wage reopening during the two-year life of the contract. Thus the contract remains in effect until May, 1950.

Harry W. Anderson, GM vice president in charge of personnel, called the wage formula "the new approach to the living cost problem."

T. A. Johnstone, acting director of the UAW-CIO's GM department said he would recommend acceptance of the proposal at a meeting of union leaders from some 90 GM plants here Friday.

It also must be okayed by the union rank-and-file membership.

The UAW-CIO had threatened to call a second postwar GM strike if the contract dispute were not settled by Friday.

Finnish Reds Call Walkout

HELSINKI, Finland — (AP) — Heavy industries and all Finnish ports were shut down today in a spreading strike.

The walkouts started at the docks where communists struck in protest against the dismissal of the communist minister of interior, Yrjo Leino. He is the husband of Hertta Kuusinen, the Finnish communist leader. Leino had been censured by vote of parliament.

The army gave no sign that it expects a communist coup.

French Show Hope In Future as Production Increases

(Here is the second of two dispatches on French recovery):

By EARL J. JOHNSON

PARIS —(UP)— It is a short walk from the Cafe de la Paix where Parisians sit in the sun drinking vermouth to the gloomy halls of the ministry of finance and economic affairs, where the state of the nation is mirrored in more somber tones.

On the whole the people aren't as smartly dressed as before the war. Many look pale and badly nourished. But much of their old gaiety is back.

At the ministry of finance every desk is occupied by a worried functionary. Here ministers and directors judge post-war recovery in terms of national income, factory production, and living costs. They find the outlook hopeful but precarious.

America's gigantic European recovery program is the main reason for hope. Without it the bread ration here would have to be cut to less than a quarter of a pound a day. That would soon deprive the people of their will to work.

Industrial production is up 13 per cent over 1938. But the economic ministry says the increase will have to reach 30 per cent to be satisfactory.

The French mined 1,000,000 tons of coal in 1944. In 1946, they produced 3,000,000 tons and the current rate per year is 4,000,000 tons. Production of electricity is far ahead of the pre-war index. From a low of 631,000,000 kilowatt hours in September, 1944, the production of electric power rose to 2,427,000,000 kilowatt hours in January this year.

In March this year steel production reached 627,000 tons compared with a monthly average in 1938 of 515,000 tons.

Cement, nitrogenous fertilizers and aluminum are other items which France now is producing faster than in pre-war time.

But perhaps the most striking results here are in the field of reconstruction since the liberation. The public works department supplies these examples:

A total of 2,625 miles of railway tracks destroyed during the war have been restored entirely.

A great majority of the bridges knocked out in the war are back in use on a permanent or provisional basis.

Specific figures are not available, but the public works department gives equally encouraging reports on restoration of canals, ports, and the French merchant marine.

Offshore Oil Acreage Linked To Dixie Dems Fight on Truman

JACKSON, Miss.—The anti-Truman Democrats of the southern tier have made Jackson their politieal capital. A political nucleus has been formed, called the States' Rights Campaign committee. The chairman is Wallace Wright, who speaks with a persuasive magnolia drawl but is nevertheless a Kansan. This magnolia drawl may be infectious or a practical affectation.

Mr. Wright's business is advertising and public relations. He runs a firm called Dixie Advertisers. Be not top-lofty about that, however. All the big political parties have public relations outfits working for them in and, if possible, out of season.

It was Carl Byoir and associates who put over the big polio campaign for Franklin D. Roosevelt, including the birthday ball hoax which kept the late Henry L. Doherty, a magnate in utilities, out of trouble with the anti-trust division of the department of justice.

Mr. Wright is running a propaganda campaign against the Truman civil rights program and he asserts upon his word that no sinister interests are putting up any money for it. In asmuch as it appears to me to have called for only a few thousand dollars, aside from radio time, I see no reason to doubt him.

As to the radio time, of which there has been much devoted to the states' rights movement, I have to say that I think it was cheap time, which is to say church-time or working-time.

People who aren't in church at church-time on Sundays are either sleeping, washing the car, fishing or getting charlie-horse playing ball with the nasty little brat next door who probably lisps. Nobody listens to working-time propaganda except morning bartenders who would be better off dead, anyway, and should have been long ago, and the drivers of those enormous freighters who are twitching with unsnuze to keep them out of the canyons.

Them and a few weary wisps blowing hair out of their eyes over washtubs beneath the cottonwoods and wondering if it ever does come true that the handsome stranger drapes the country girl in jewels and furs and introduces her to Justice Murphy in the Stork Club.

Now there have been nasty insinuations that those American states which have ocean frontage and on that frontage have oil offshore have joined together in a vicious plot against the United States of America. Mississippi is a state with coastal oil. Louisiana is another.

All such States and some with other potential treasures to defend against usurpation by the national government have an interest in the continuing claim of the submarine oil states to the value of, and the right to regulate, such oil deposits.

Does it begin to appear that a question of states' rights becomes very prominent here?

The governor of Mississippi, Fielding L. Wright, no relation of Wallace Wright, is a states' rights man on this oil proposition. If he weren't, Mississippi never would have elected him governor. The governors of other littoral oil states also are states' right men, including Governor Warren of California.

Is it wrong of these states to encourage big owners of their offshore oil acreage to finance their politics and propaganda of states' rights? Any citizen may contribute a nickel or a dollar to this expensive contest. Why not a million, if that citizen feels sufficiently aroused? After all, how much did the mine workers and the CIO contribute to Roosevelt? And why restrict the contest to one of claims to material resources?

Congressman Accused of Abuse Of His Franking Privilege

NEW YORK—Cong. Ed. Gossett is the latest to abuse his franking privilege by allowing it to be used to spread an odious article written by the Nazi Grand Mufti. . . . Cong. Gossett proclaimed with a straight face: "Few of us know anything about the Grand Mufti, his history, his philosophy, or his program" . . . Horseradish! Most Americans don't share the Congressman's ignorance. Many books, magazines and newspapers have published reams of evidence proving the Grand Mufti is a Nazi war criminal.

If Cong. Gossett is really interested in the history, philosophy and program of the Grand Mufti, why doesn't he demand that Sec'y Marshall make public the documented evidence (detailing the Mufti's pro-Hitler record) in the State Dept's private cemetery?

Since last November the Navy Department has asked the Department of Justice to investigate Arabian-American Oil for fraud . . . But nothing has been done . . This is the background: Standard Oil of California and Texas Oil Company put up a foreign corporation with a capital of $100,000 to produce Arabian Oil . . . That corporation earned 91 million dollars without paying a cent of U. S. taxes . . . But that wasn't enough for the boys . . . They formed another Arabian Oil Corporation, which earned 25 million dollars more . . . It paid the U. S. one million . . . That saved the parent American companies 90 millions of dollars by not paying U. S. taxes.

But that isn't all . . . The Arabian-American Oil told the Navy King Ibn Saud wanted 21 cents more (a barrel) and raised the price that much . . . The Navy paid it, but King Ibn Saud never got it . . . Arabian Oil Company kept it . . . It looks as if Arabian Oil double-crossed even the Arabs . . . The Navy says it may be fraud, and it has asked the Department of Justice to find out.

The Department of Justice still says nothing.

NAVY COMES TO CITY—A "ground fleet" is on display for Mansfielders today and tomorrow at the west side of Central park. Here are the vans and trucks which carry the Navy equipment and "secrets."

Land-Going Fleet On Display In City

Mansfielders will have an opportunity to see the Navy's land-going fleet today and Wednesday from 1 to 9 p. m., on on the west side of Central park where it will be open to the public free of charge.

Wednesday evening's entertainment at the exhibit will feature an uncut version of the Bikini Atomic Bomb test. The technicolor movie is entitled "Operations Cross-roads" and is shown as originally filmed.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and several representatives of the area service recruiting offices will be present today to welcome the Navy group under the command of Cmdr. J. J. Morgan, USNR.

Traveling through the mid-western states, the naval convoy is comprised of four vans, several auxiliary vehicles and its own power plant. It recently completed a tour through the southern states where it was viewed by more than 300,000 people

SEE TIME FUSE

One of the top secrets during the war was the variable time fuse or proximity fuse connected to a computer or mechanical brain which automatically caused variations in the fuse for the allowance of rain, wind, velocity, speed and altitude. It will be shown and demonstrated to Mansfielders in a sectionalized cutaway model.

During the day planes from Port Columbus will circle Mansfield at a distance of five to 20 miles, serving as live targets for the demonstrations.

In the CIC (Combat Information Center) van Mansfielders will see how the operator tracks the plane on the radar scope, one of the closely-guarded secrets of the war, and how he determines their altitude, speed and bearing in a few split seconds.

The exhibit hopes to have the city's permission to set up a public address system that will enable Mansfielders to hear the operator on the ground communicate with the planes flying over the city.

Other displays include the Navy's newest rocket motor and a standard submarine torpedo through a plexiglass covering showing the operation of the intricate mechanism which is geared down.

Also on display will be highly specialized equipment, a 50-calibre machine gun, a contact mine, and several scaled models of ships, including a model of the Navy's secret drydock.

City Parks Ready For Holiday

Liberty Pool To Open Next Sunday

The Mansfield summer park program will be officially ushered in Sunday at 12:30 p. m. with the opening of the Liberty park swimming pool, Frank Burton, park superintendent, announced today.

"The park will be open daily from 12:30 p. m. until dusk. If a sufficient number of persons are in the pool at that time, we will turn on the lights to allow them to use it during the evening," Burton said.

For the seventh consecutive year, Paul Snyder has been appointed manager. Raymond Seymour will serve as lifeguard with Eleanor Stevens working as cashier and Carl Theaker as basket clerk.

The admittance fee will be 20 cents for children and 30 cents for adults, Burton said.

With the pool's opening, the park department completes its preparations for the summer season. Baseball diamonds have been rolled, benches painted and installed and playgrounds equipped with swings and other devices.

The city parks are open to picnickers and Burton anticipates a busy holiday week-end at the play spots if the weather is fair.

Court Orders Wall Razed

A concrete retaining wall put up by the Fort's Auto Electric service on its property must be removed from the property of Nick Miler at 113 East Luther place by July 1, 1948.

Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch issued the order yesterday, requiring George Edwin and Warren Crandall Fort to remove the wall.

An order also was issued perpetually enjoining them from trespassing or permitting a trespass on Miller's premises.

Miller had charged in his petition that after the Forts built the retaining wall it shifted onto his property. As a result, Miller said, his building was endangered. The court ordered that Miller recover the costs of his action.

Miller's $5,000 damage claim as a result of the trespass was continued by the court, to be submitted to a jury. Attorney Robert L. Ross represented Miller. Counsel for the defendants were C. H. Huston and Henry Huston.

Twenty-six of the 41 committee members attended the meeting held in the probate court offices.

Ohio Canal Plan Backed

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Dreams of a Lake Erie-Ohio river canal were brighter today following approval of a review report by the Ohio river division engineer.

However, actual construction of the 104-mile long canal is far in the future, if at all.

Canal projects linking Lake Erie and Ohio have been considered since 1912.

The latest proposed canal has an estimated first cost of $439,000,000, of which approximately $23,000,000 is to be supplied by local interests.

As approved by the engineer yesterday, the report sets the canal's course—along the Beaver and Mahoning rivers on the south slopes and the Grand Basin on the north—from Rochester, Pa., to Beaver Falls, Pa., and then to Newcastle, Pa., and Youngstown, Ohio.

From Youngstown the canal would touch Niles, Warren, Farmington and Jefferson before swinging to Ashtabula. A cut between the Mahoning and Grand Basin would permit access from the Mahoning to the north slope

Other provisions include a modern harbor suitable for lake and river vessels immediately west of Ashtabula harbor and a dam near Harpersfield, O., to provide a navigable reservoir in the Grand Basin

Columbus Central Eliminates Tygers, 5-4

Sports Chatter

By Fritz Howell

(Ohio AP Sports Editor)

COLUMBUS — Paul E. Brown, general manager and skipper of the Cleveland Browns, made his first public appearance here last night since surrendering the Ohio State grid coaching reins in 1944 to enter the navy.

A bit balder, the former Massillon "miracle man" spoke at an Agonis club dinner honoring the 15 outstanding scholar-athletes of the Columbus high schools.

Apparently taking cognizance of recurrent reports that he'd like to return to his old job as boss of the Buckeyes, Brown said:

"I don't know just what to talk about, without getting into difficulties, but I'm not here to pick up any of these boys for my team."

★

Turning to the honored guests, Brown said:

"To you boys, I'd like to say: Don't worry about the draft or other uncertainties which our youth is facing. Go to college, study hard, and be ready for anything that comes along.

"And if I were you, I'd go to Ohio State. There is no finer institution."

Brown declared "there is no conflict between college and professional football—at least on the part of the professionals."

Turning to professional ball, Brown said "I believe the National and All-America leagues will get together before long. It's time we stopped fighting for personnel with which to fight each other. But I like to win, and we're after anyone who can help us win.

"I miss old 'Wid' (Carroll D. Widdoes, OSU assistant coach) for he was a quiet, efficient guy who kept me from cutting corners too sharply."

The only disturbing memory of Ohio State days, Brown said, was the banquet honoring his 1943 "Baby Bucklings."

"In 1942 when we won the Big Ten and national championships, 1,500 persons turned out for the banquet," Brown said. "The following year, with a team of freshmen and 4-F players who did as much to uphold traditions as any team that ever represented the university, only 29 fans appeared at the banquet." The 1943 team won three, lost six.

Brown told the 380 Agonis club guests he was glad to be back for an evening, but said:

"This is the start of a week's vacation. I keep a little book containing the names of all the fellows I can beat at golf. I have seven of them with me, and starting tomorrow (Tuesday) we'll play a different course every day.

"We'll be at Mansfield Westbrook Tuesday, and then go on to Congress Lake near Akron, Brookside at Canton, Shady Hollow at Massilon and Granville Inn at Granville."

The seven, he disclosed later, are members of the Browns' coaching and office staff—all of whom probably are afraid to beat the boss.

Victors Rip Lima School For Crown

By CHARLEY STINE

BOWLING GREEN — The Mansfield Senior high baseball team ran into too much hitting power here yesterday in Columbus Central as it bowed out of regional tournament play, 5-4.

Columbus defeated Lima Central, 6 to 0, to advance to the state tournament next week-end. The Lima aggregation defeated Toledo Scott in the first game yesterday, 15 to 0. It was the fourth straight year that Coach Jimmy Lymper's Tygers had lost out in the regional.

A seventh-inning rally produced two runs but left Joe Miller on second with the tying tally when the game. The Tygers had previthegame. The Tygers had previously been on the short end of a 5-2 score after Columbus drove Shelly Swank from the box for the first time of the year.

ONE BAD PITCH

Except for one bad pitch in the third, Swank sailed along in fine style until the Central power burst loose in the top of the fifth. The only Pirate run in the first four frames was a home run which Tom Jones, left-hand batter, lined down the third base line with two out in the third.

In the fifth the roof caved in when Gruber let Emmilhinz's grounder get away from him. Swank threw the next man out but Jack Martin drove a long four-baser to left center. Logan followed with a triple and Lou Gregorio, minus any warmup whatsoever, came in.

LOU RETIRES SIDE

Jones and Morgan rapped out quick safeties to score another run before Gregorio retired the side. The safeties broke Gregorio's streak of hitless innings at 14. He had pitched two consecutive no-hit games.

Columbus added it final run in the sixth. James tripled and then after two men went out Martin dropped a Texas leaguer which kicked up the chalk just behind first base.

The Tygers hit the ball well but without the extra base power of their opposition. Swank delivered the two hardest blows, a double and triple.

He scored Mansfield's first run in the first inning when he hit the two bagger, advanced to third on Miller's infield hit and came home when the shortstop kicked Gruber's grounder.

Swank tallied again in the third on a walk, and hits by Sparkie Watts and Gruber. Jones took over on the mound in the fourth and the Tyger bats were silent until the final frame.

RALLY HALTED

Tom Tucker led off with a walk and Corky Perrine struck out after working the count down to 3 and 2. Swauk followed with a long triple to left, and Watts flied to center, scoring Swank. Miller then doubled but died on second.

Little Benny Hogan Meets Mike Turnesa

St. Louis —(AP)— Firing against the great Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., today for the championship prize of $3,500 in the 30th professional golfers association tournament was Mike Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y.

Mike was continuing a Turnesa tradition—three times now one of the seven Turnesa brothers have gone into the finals of the PGA.

On the basis of past tournament performances, Hogan figured to win rather handily today, but Mike was shooting a few extra licks for two of his brothers—Joe and Jim, the Turnesa's who failed to win the PGA after reaching the finals in 1927 and 1942, respectively.

Mike, who'll be 40 years old next month and is son number 4 in the Turnesa brood, got into the finals by upsetting Masters Champion Claude Harmon, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., 1-up in a rugged 37 hole match yesterday.

ERASES DEMARET

Hogan, born in Dublin, Tex., thirty-five seasons ago, advanced to the finals over Jimmy Demaret, of Ojai, Calif., 2 and 1.

Turnesa, trailing by two holes after the twenty-seventh, stuck to the task and caught up at number 35 when Harmon drove into a trap and went one over par. Mike continued steady all the way and won out on the thirty-seventh.

Hogan, well up most of the way, clinched his victory with a sensational putt at the thirty-fourth green. There he angled one for 20 feet on a sloping green, sneaking it into the back of the cup.

Hogan played 183 holes of golf in 26 strokes under par in advancing to the finals. Turnesa was 16 strokes under par for 177 holes.

New Athletic Loop Planned

ASHLAND —(AP)— A new athletic conference of Ohio colleges was planned here today by representatives of Ashland, Defiance, Rio Grande and Cedarville colleges.

Ashland athletic director George H. Donges was named temporary chairman of the proposed loop, which will ask Findlay, Ohio Northern and Wilmington to join the circuit. Another organizational meeting will be held June 13 at Cedarville.

Bluffton has also expressed interest in the league.

The Ashland college motivation of the new league began after the college announced its resignation from the Ohio conference. The new league would not get into operation before the 1949-50 season. The league would include scheduling of football, baseball, golf, track and basketball.

Hal Newhouser Looks Like Star of Old; Brooklyn Ends Long Losing Streak

By JOE REICHLER

(AP Sports Writer)

Detroit's loyal baseball fans were beaming again today. Hal Newhouser, one of their greatest idols since Ty Cobb, finally has begun to look like the pitcher he was in 1944, 1945 and 1946.

Those were the years the southpaw star rolled up 80 victories while losing only 27 games.

Hal's return to form began last Wednesday when he hurled a masterful four-hitter against the Boston Red Sox. He followed yesterday with a seven-hit 5-2 triumph over the Washington Senators.

ONLY THIRD WIN

That was only Newhouser's third win of the season. Since he beat the Chicago White Sox in the opening game, he had been shelled from the mound five straight times and had dropped four decisions.

The victory was the Tigers' 16th against as many defeats and strengthened their hold on fourth place. They now enjoy a full game lead over the St. Louis Browns. The defeat dropped the Senators into a sixth place tie with the Boston Red Sox.

The Brooklyn Dodgers were enjoying a new experience today. They were riding high, wide and handsome on a one-game winning streak. The man responsible for Brooklyn's first success since May 13 was southpaw Preacher Roe. The Brooks had dropped eight straight to fall into the National league basement.

Roe went the route with an eight-hit 9-4 win over the Cincinnati Reds. Incidentally, it was Roe who won the last Dodger game via a 9-3 score, and then too it was the Reds who were the victims.

The victory pushed the Dodgers up two notches into sixth place, seven percentage points in front of the Chicago Cubs. The Reds dropped into the cellar.

Walter (Monk) Dubiel, who only 10 days ago blanked the New York Giants with three hits, pitched another three-hitter last night as the Phillies whipped the National league leading St. Louis Cardinals, 6-2, in Philadelphia.

Johnny Blatnik, Philadelphia's fine-looking rookie outfielder, continued his spectacular hitting with a double and triple, driving in two runs.

No other major league games were scheduled.

Nick Loris Fires 35 To Top Moose Loop Individuals

Medal score in the Moose Golf league yesterday at Coolridge went to Nick Loris who turned in a brilliant one-over-par 35. Ray Malaska went two over with 36 for runnerup honors.

Fritz Vogel, league secretary announced that next Monday's matches would be postponed because of Memorial Day.

Standings in the league: Treasurers 17, Prelates 15, Mooseheaven 14, Jr. Governors 14, Harders 13, Mooseheart 12, Governors 10, Trustees 4.

Gorman-Rupp Softballers Fall Before Ashland, 4-1

Gorman-Rupp went down to its first softball defeat of the season last night at the G-R field before some 600 fans. The highly-touted Ashland Indians supplied the power and pitching to turn the trick, 4-1.

The Mansfield team had won two straight. Both teams are members of the six-club North Central Ohio Inter-City circuit.

For three innings, young Paul Michaels of Ashland and Dale McKinley, Mansfield, pitched shutout ball. Then the Indians cut loose with the game winning three-run burst in the fourth.

Dick Welch walked to start the inning and Nubs Urban followed with a single. McKinley got the next two men out but Jim Whitmore, Linn Carr and Michaels followed with one-base blows. Ashland counted its fourth run in the seventh inning when Jack Harris led off with a double and came home on Dean Duffy's single.

HAMILTON HOMERS

Catcher Tick Hamilton gave Gorman-Rupp its only run when he homered in the fifth. It was the first hit for the home club. The only other blow Mansfield garnered was Nick Weber's seventh-inning triple.

Lefty Jack Stowe followed McKinley to the mound in the fifth. The G-R hurlers gave up seven hits.

Marshall's Acts Disturb Europeans

Confidence Fades In U. S. Leadership

By WALTER LIPPMANN

In a few weeks Secretary of State Marshall will have gotten from Congress all the money, weapons, soldiers and legal authorizations he can expect to get—unless there is a new crisis and emergency—during the remainder of the Truman administration

The national resources put at his disposal for the support of foreign policy will be large, larger indeed than any that have ever been made available, except in war time, to this or any other government.

But the amount of money and of the weapons will not be unlimited It will have been fixed Moreover most of the money will have been committed and, therefore, in a very real sense its diplomatic effect will have been discounted The weapons and the troops will also have been committed by the strategic doctrine of our armed forces

The influence of the Marshall Plan and of the rearmament program will still be great but it will not be what it was when they were proposals, when, because they were unknown and uncertain quantities, they aroused hopes and fears which could not be measured.

MARSHALL KNOWS STRENGTH

For the period of the election Marshall will be in the position of a general who knows the limits of the material forces at his command, and must now make the most of them by planning, leadership, and morale Congress will have supplied him with money and weapons, but he and the State Department will have to supply the political insight and judgment and resourcefulness, and the diplomatic knowhow

If, as the saying goes, the morale is to the material in war as three is to one, the ratio is at least that in a cold war and in the struggle for reconstruction and peace

Seen against the background of the election, the adjournment of Congress, and the long critical months of the coming summer and autumn, the recent episodes—Smith-Molotov, Wallace - Stalin and the Truman - Marshall public reactions to them—cannot be written off as nothing more than Russian propaganda on the one hand and diplomatic inexpertness on the other

The net result of the administration's negatives has been to disclose a grave deficiency—the lack of an affirmative political policy with which to make use of the money and the arms placed at its disposal

After Marshall had said no no to Molotov and Stalin, there was an embarrassing silence, because he was not prepared to say anything interesting to the world which was waiting so eagerly for him to say something

The administration is proceeding on the theory that it cannot do anything, or even say anything, on the great issues which divide the world until western Europe is economically stronger, until it is united in a military alliance, until western Germany has a government and is a going concern, and until American military power has been re-established This theory, though plausible, is defective, lacking political energy, and we can already see that it is not going to work

UNITY LESS PROMISING

The European co-operation envisaged by the Marshall plan is less promising today than it was before the bill was voted The separatist and nationalist and isolationist forces in Europe are very active, no longer so restricted as they were by the need to placate American opinion.

The project of western European union and the Brussels pact is very near to being stalled, largely because the administration's military program does not in fact carry out, as Europeans understood it, the president's promise to support a western Europe

It is unlikely, therefore that Marshall will be able to carry on through the next few months on the assumption that the excellent and necessary measures already taken will gradually redress the balance of power, and that in the meantime he can deal with comparatively small issues, like Berlin, Korea, Greece, taking no positive position on the really great issues which arise from the division of Europe

For in the meantime he will be losing—there is evidence that he is losing—the confidence of the great masses of the people of Europe This is not to say they are becoming more communist, quite the contrary But there is good reason to think that they are beginning to doubt more and more strongly whether this administration knows how, or even earnestly wants to know how to give them peace and relief from the burden of military occupation and military pressure

The negative attitude taken by Marshall recently, coupled with the strategic ideas which underlie American rearmament, are profoundly disturbing to the peoples of Europe

They still prefer us no doubt, to the Russians, but, to be frank about it, not because we are inspiring hope and confidence but as the giver of benefits and as the less of two evils

LIBERTY IS BIG PRIZE

For we are not identified, as we could be and should be, with the one thing which more people on both sides of the iron curtain want more than anything else — the liberation of the European continent from the grip of the non-European armies, and the return of Europe to the Europeans

If we were, our influence would rest not only on dollars and the atomic bomb, bu upon the aspirations of Europe

When, for example the Austrians hear through inspired newspaper articles that we do not want an Austrian peace treaty because we do not want, for fear of communism, to end the military occupation, we have let ourselves be maneuvered into a position which is in the long run untenable

Thus we have let ourselves become identified with the prolongation, and not with the ending, of the very thing which proud and civilized people resent the most—the presence in their midst of alien armies and the taking for granted of the idea that their lands and cities and their national destiny are to be treated as the stakes in a diplomatic struggle which is directed from distant places

Police Fear 'Juke War'

CHICAGO — (UP)— A recording company official was shot to death Monday by gunmen who pursued him down a darkened street until he fell of exhaustion

Police said the killing was executed with such "perfect gangland precision" they feared it might mark the outbreak of a "juke box war" in the Chicago underworld.

The victim was Leo (Little Sneeze) Friedman 33 who was associated with the Mercury Recording company and ran a restaurant in the loop

He was shot to death by two or three gunmen driving an inconspicuous old model car When their first shots missed, the gunmen patiently let Friedman run until he tripped and fell over a fence from exhaustion

Then one of the gunmen stepped from the car and pumped three slugs into the side of his head

Foreign Cars Not Rated Too Much Chance

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — Ted Horn's pre-war Maserati looked today to be the only foreign built automobile with much chance to beat modern American racers in the 32nd annual 500-mile sweepstakes at the Indianapolis motor speedway May 31.

Chester (Chet) Miller of Glendale, Calif., among the first ten in five previous Memorial day races, qualified the 12-cylinder Don Lee Mercedes at 127.249 miles an hour.

NALON FASTEST

The fastest qualifying run was made Saturday by Duke Nalon, Los Angeles, in the remaining Novi grooved piston special. The 550-horsepower racer, twin to the car in which Ralph Hepburn was killed May 16, was clocked at 131.603 miles an hour.

High School Pitcher To Sign Pro Contract

TWIN FALLS, Ida.—(INS)—Bobby Long, sensational Twin Falls high school pitcher, said he would sign a contract today with either Cincinnati or Pittsburgh and added "it will probably be with the Reds.

Long has pitched three no-hit games this year along with four one-hit contests. In his junior year he also turned in one no-hitter.

Champ Gus Lesnevich To Referee Ring Go

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Light heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich will referee the June 14 ten-rounder in Columbus between Irish Pat Richard and Arturo Godoy, South American champion.

choice after Al Weill, manager of Godoy, and [illegible] Huffman, were unable to agree on a referee.

Horn, 1947 A. A. A. national driving champion from Paterson, N. J., averaged only 126.365 in Cotton Henning's Maserati but ran the last lap with a loose clutch.

The odd-looking Pat Clancy six-wheeler from Memphis also showed promise in its qualification test by Billy Devore, Glendale, Calif. It was well down the speed list with a 123.967 average mut Devore was moving faster every lap as he gained confidence in the car.

Frey Spoils No-Hit Tilt

(By Associated Press)

It remained for a veteran of 13 years in the Major leagues to spoil a no-hit pitching effort in the American association Monday night.

The villain was Lonnie Frey, now with Minneapolis. He did his work as a pinch hitter against Louisville's Jack Griffore in the last inning. With one out, Griffore had one ball and two strikes on Frey when the veteran clubbed a clean single in the ninth. Griffore retired the next man and then Len Schulte got the second Miller hit. That was all, and Louisville won 4-0 with Griffore's 2-hitter going on the books as the best pitching chore for the Colonels this season.

Looks to Title

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Beau Jack looked toward a probable shot at the lightweight championship today after punching his way to an unanimous 10-round decision over Tony Janiro, Youngstown, Ohio, welterweight.

Wage Hikes Level Off; Prices Continue Climb

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The Commerce department reported Monday that wage increases show signs of leveling off but that prices are climbing steadily.

The report said commodity prices advanced again during April and early May. Farm and food products, recovering after the February slump, continued to go up and clothing and leather products rose after a decline, the department said.

On the other hand, the report said, wages in factories making durable goods have not shown a "steady pattern of rise."

In retail trades and in the "soft goods" factories hourly wage boosts between October and February were said to have been lower than in the same period last year.

The department said the threat of an early business recession had disappeared as the foreign aid and rearmament programs began to take shape Heavy goods factories were said to be running far behind on filling orders.

The report said 58,330,000 Americans are now employed. It said employment figures are running ahead of last year's and predicted that the total soon would surpass the all time high of 60,079,000 set last July.

Appropriation Boost Sought for School Lunch Program

AAA Fund Wins Boost In Senate

Dems Take Lead In New Action

WASHINGTON —(ANS)—Confident Democrats drove for an increased school lunch program today after handing the Senate GOP leadership a setback by boosting the Triple-A soil conservation for 1949 by $75,000,000.

In a 41 to 38 vote, with a number of Republicans absent, the Senate overrode its appropriations committee by increasing the 1949 AAA program in the agriculture appropriation bill from $225,000,000 to $300,000,000.

After that victory the Democrats, spearheaded by a southern bloc, pushed into another fight to liberalize the agriculture funds. They pressed for passage of the Stewart amendment, which would increase to $100,000,000 the school lunch program for which the house voted $65,000,000.

Sen. Brooks (R-Ill), chairman of the senate appropriations subcommittee on agriculture, said he did not know whether he had the votes to hold the school lunch allocation down to the committee-approved figure of $65,000,000. He said: "They may win on that, too."

Adoption of the amendment by Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), increasing the 1949 crop year AAA program brought the agriculture appropriation from the committee-approved $290,000,000 to $655,000,000.

The proposal of Sen. Stewart (D-Ten.), would boost the overall figure to $690,000,000.

Democrats immediately clinched their victory on the Russell amendment by tabling a motion to reconsider—a parliamentary maneuver that prevents a reversal of the action when more Republicans are present.

President Truman's budget asked only the $65,000,000 for school lunches which the House granted.

Tricks In Presence of Police Cost Motorist Right to Drive

Driving close to the curb and calling to pedestrians cost Robert W. Moffett, Mansfield, R. D. 3, a 30-day driver's license suspension in municipal court today.

Police first saw Moffett at Fourth and Main streets yesterday. Capt. Clare W. Kyler said Moffett drove his car very close to the curb and told two pedestrians to "get out of the way."

Capt. Kyler took the license number, intending to check it. On Fourth street, near Western avenue, two patrolmen said they saw Moffett repeat the act. They pursued Moffett and caught him on Trimble road. He was found guilty of unsafe operation of a motor vehicle.

William Prie, 70 Bushnell street, pleaded innocent to a charge of assault and threatening in a menacing manner The case will be heard Friday. The affidavit was signed by Chesterfield Carter, of the same address.

Adolph N. Hawkins, 515 Lily street, was fined $75 and costs and his license was suspended for six months for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Marvin W. Au, Mansfield, R. D. 2, was fined a total of $20 on charges of speeding and having an inadequate muffler.

Robert A. Morphett, Columbus, forfeited a $25 bond on a charge of improperly passing a motor vehicle.

Assault and battery charges against Sara Clark, 238 Park avenue east, were dismissed because of insufficient evidence.

Mansfielders To Take Air Trip to Hawaii

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Stevens, 67 North Mulberry street, will take their third long air trip Friday when they leave the Mansfield airport via Trans World Airlines for a three-week vacation in Hawaii.

They will leave Friday morning and will stop in Chicago en route to San Francisco. From San Francisco they will fly to Honolulu, Hawaii, making the complete flight in less than 24 hours.

On their first flight from Columbus to Los Angeles in 1929 they met Amelia Earhart during a stop over in the west. At that time flights were not scheduled after dark. Mrs. Stevens is believed to be the first woman pleasure passenger to leave from the Mansfield airport.

The second trans-continental flight they made was in July, 1946, when they flew to San Francisco to attend a medical convention.

They will make a complete tour of Hawaii during their three-week vacation before flying home.

Truman Asks Hike In Payroll Taxes

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman Monday recommended increases in payroll taxes as part of a broad expansion of the social security program.

In a special message to congress, the president asked:

1. That the limit on earnings taxable under the social security law be raised from $3,000 to $4,800.

2. That the payroll tax be increased from 1 to 1½ per cent against employes and employers effective Jan. 1, 1949, instead of Jan. 1, 1950, as the law now provides.

The message called for these added benefits:

1. More adequate benefits under old age and survivors insurance, and liberalization of provisions so as to make persons earning under $40 a month eligible for benefits.

He said the present law denying benefits to any person earning $15 in any month works hardships.

2. Extended coverage for old age and survivors insurance by extending its protection "as rapidly as possible to the groups" now excluded.

3. Extension of coverage for unemployment insurance.

4. Insurance against loss of earnings due to illness or disability

5. Improved public assistance for the needy.

The President, asserting payments to beneficiaries under old age and survivors insurance are "seriously inadequate," recommended Congress "increase benefits by at least 50 per cent," and women be made eligible for old age benefits at 60, rather than the present 65 years.

He said the present average payment for a retired worker is only about $25 a month, and is substantially less for dependents and survivors.

"People whose sole income is from social security payments have just about reached the breaking point," the message said.

Closed Shop Due For 3rd Court Airing

Justices Accept Nebraska Case

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— The Supreme Court Monday agreed to hear a third challenge by the American Federation of Labor against a state anti-closed shop law.

The court agreed to decide the constitutionality of the anti-closed shop amendment to the Nebraska constitution. It was adopted by the Nebraska voters in 1946.

AFL cases challenging the constitutionality of similar laws in North Carolina and Arizona already have been accepted for decision by the high court. Another, involving a Tennessee closed shop law, is still in the lower courts.

The high court's decision in these cases will not be made this term. The court has finished hearing arguments for the summer. The anti-closed shop cases will be argued after the court returns to work next fall.

OTHER ACTIONS

In other actions Monday, the court:

1. Agreed to decide whether Michigan has a legal right to ban in its big cities all barmaids except the wife or daughter of a barkeeper. The challenge was brought by indignant barmaids in Detroit and Dearborn. They said a 1945 Michigan liquor control law is doing them out of a livelihood.

2. Once again tossed back to a lower court the legally-tangled Aluminum Company of America monopoly case. Alcoa is trying to get court reversal of a 1945 ruling that it is a monopoly. The high court said, by a 7 to 0 vote, that the Second Circuit Court of Appeals in New York, which made the original ruling, must decide whether Alcoa has the right under that decision to try now to get it reversed.

3. Ordered a lower court to take another look at the case of a prisoner sent to Alcatraz in 1945 for bank robbery, and got a blast from Justice Robert H. Jackson for that decision. Jackson, one of the dissenters in the 5 to 4 ruling, said the high court is giving convicts "new and unprecedented opportunities" to retry their cases from jail.

Firm Named In Action

Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc., yesterday was named in a suit for $1,433 damages as the result of a bus-auto collision last August at Marion and Glessner avenues.

The plaintiffs are Adam H. Brandt, 506 Woodward avenue, and the Lumbermens Mutual Insurance company.

Brandt said in his petition that the insurance firm paid him $683 for damages to his car and the company now claims that amount in subrogation. The remaining $750 represents medical and hospital bills for Mrs. Brandt, injured in the accident, and other losses resulting from the mishap. Attorney William A. Calhoun represents Brandt.

Mrs. Brandt last week filed a $10,000 action against the bus company for injuries she said she received in the accident.

Wheat Loans Set at $1.96

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Agriculture department will offer price-supporting loans on early harvested wheat at rates averaging $1.96 a bushel, farm basis. The rates for last year's crop averaged $1.83.

Officials said these rates will be called "interim" rates and will be in effect until the department announces regular rates for the crop year beginning July 1.

The regular rates will be determined by the parity price of the grain as of July 1. Farm law requires that they be not less than 90 per cent of parity

'Beth Soon To End Public Appearances

LONDON —(U.P.)— Newspapers here predicted today that Princess Elizabeth's reported impending motherhood would halt her public appearances after a scheduled visit in Cardiff, Wales, next Thursday.

They said Buckingham palace would announce the coming event in a few days.

The Express said the "interesting announcement" would have been made last week except that it would have forced cancellation of the Princess' visit to Coventry Saturday.

The heiress to the British throne has only two public engagements on her announced schedule. She will receive a DCL (doctor of civil law) degree from Oxford university on Tuesday and attend the Bath and West Show at Cardiff later in the week.

Pity the Poor Monkeys; They'll Soon Wear Corsets

CHICAGO—(INS)—Pity the poor monkeys. Forty of them will soon dress just like women.

It's all in the interests of science. Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, vice president in charge of the University of Illinois' professional schools has ordered the monkeys so that they can wear—of all things—corsets.

The monkeys will have their midriffs squeezed, just like women, in an effort to find out whether tight corsets are responsible for stomach ulcers.

The research is being financed by a $9,000 grant from a corset company.

Dr. Ivy asserted that autopsies have disclosed ulcers in the stomachs of women who tugged on their corset strings too zealously.

Walter White Says—

Columnist Praises Book On Limitation of Ballot

Would you be interested in learning the processes through which a Bilbo or a Talmadge can be regurgitated into national power and prominence? Are you wondering what lies back of the current southern revolt against civil rights legislation and what it is that the leaders of that abortive revolution are seeking to hide and protect? Does it startle or alarm you that next November three and a half billion out of a possible fifty million voters will be Negroes strategically distributed to give them the potential balance of power if the election is reasonably close?

WHITE

If you want the answers to these and related questions Henry Lee Moon's "Balance of Power The Negro Vote" just published by Doubleday will give them to you in as drama-packed but objective fashion as you will find in any book yet written on the subject. Frequently the story is as fascinating as a novel For here is the story of as gallant a struggle against insuperable odds as is to be found in American history

If you want to retain any illusions of magnolia-scented, moon-drenched Southern "mansions,' peopled by exquisite flowers of Southern womanhood and gallant but amorous gentlemen, don't read "Balance of Power."

As newspaperman, housing official in Washington during the days of the New Deal, assistant to Sidney Hillman from the inception of CIO-PAC to very recently when he became public relations director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Mr Moon has had an opportunity such as has been given to few, if any other men to study what makes the political wheels of fortune spin

By conviction an honest and intelligent liberal, he has resisted any predilection to weight his history towards those whose economic and political views he shares He has instead used an expert scalpel to lay bare the mistakes of leaders of labor, of Negroes and of the left wing, maintaining the same factual detachment he has used in stripping bare the methods by which an insignificant percentage of Southern politicians have increasingly dominated not only the South but the nation as well

The result is a dual history— of the calculated campaign of limitation of the ballot in the South to vest control in the hands of a miniscule minority and of the uphill struggle of Negroes and a few whites to block that campaign. One cannot but wryly admire the job of public relations which the bourbons have done in convincing even the most percipient of Northerners that the South was cruelly mistreated, that denial of the vote to Negroes was to prevent "corruption by illiterate ex-slaves," that the post-Civil war reconstruction governments were graft-ridden and inefficient, that even today "white supremacy" can be preserved only by ruthless methods.

Mr Moon proves to the satisfaction of even the most demanding scholar that Tweed in New York and Bilbo in Mississippi took more than all the "black and tan" reconstruction governments; that those same maligned reconstruction legislatures enacted laws to provide free public schools for the first time in the South, that they broadened election requirements, recognized women's rights, initiated land reform and proposed wage legislation and federal aid to education which the rest of us haven't grown up to yet.

FACTS ABOUT PILES

Piles (hemorrhoids) are but one of various disorders of the rectum, and appear in widely varying degree of severity.

Although a majority of adults have slight cases of piles, which apparently do not affect their health and well being, they can and do contribute to headaches, upset stomach, constipation, back ache, leg ache and general nervous exhaustion.

The milder cases of piles can be successfully treated, and need not be removed, but in more advanced cases, of long standing, only removal will provide lasting results. There is no single, private treatment for all cases of piles, regardless of their nature or development. Each case must be individually treated, with proper consideration for the nature of the disorder, its severity, the patients general condition, age, and many other factors.

Only an experienced, qualified doctor of rectal diseases can properly diagnose, and safely and successfully treat the various types of rectal disorders. Make sure for your own protection

City's 12-Minute Parking Meters Ready For Motorists

Mansfield's gift to the quick-and motorist is completed

Fifty-five "gold" parking meters have been installed on the four corners of every down-town intersection For one penny the motorist with a hasty shopping schedule can stop at these meters for 12 minutes This will allow for quick trips to the bank, mailing letters, or a visit to the corner drugstore

Twelve more meters were installed yesterday Already the meters have been termed "very successful" by Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals.

"I've seen two and three cars use the same space in five minutes" he said Anyone who wants to make a quick stop is almost guaranteed of a place now without driving all over town to find an empty space or parking several blocks from where he is going"

There's just one thing the commissioner hopes to clear up in the minds of the motorists—that s the 60-minute markings on the meters The 60 minutes shouldn t be there The motorist gets a minimum of 12 minutes at the gold meters regardless of how many pennies he pushes through the slot Right now the commissioner is getting a lot of complaints about 'that meter over on the corner is out' of order Boals says he just takes the complainers over to the meters points to the 12 minute sign and smiles

By DOON CAMPBELL
(Reuters Special Correspondent)

IN THE OLD CITY OF JERUSALEM — (INS) — (Via Amman) (Filed 5 p m Local Time Monday)—Arab legionnaires today are blasting their way through the catacombs of old Jerusalem to reach suicide squads resisting under the rubble of the old city

Some 1500 Jews, including fighting men are enduring a living death in buildings battered almost out of recognition

They will be hammered until they die or surrender

Some prefer to die Others want to surrender but cannot because their leaders have given no surrender" orders

The local Arab legion commander said the Jews are in a "terribly bad state" owing to lack of food and water He said

'We dont want to lose men so we are exploding our way to the Jews

Jewish forces abortively attempted to smash through to the old city last night Two hundred men armed with machine guns and small arms attacked the Zion gate leading into the old quarter. They were repulsed with heavy losses and removed their dead at sunrise this morning.

Once again, the reminder, remember to take out the ignition key when you park the car—don't encourage theft.

A reader tells of noticing a prominently displayed sign: "There is nothing wrong with capitalism that communism could cure."

Taft Viewed as Logical Nominee

WITH the Republican national convention less than a month ahead, much discussion of the relative strength of various aspirants for the presidential nomination may be expected from now until balloting finally discloses the choice.

While preferential primaries in several states have been interpreted as favorable omens for one or another of the candidates, it appears to have been only the Ohio primary result that is being nationally accepted as revealing Senator Robert A. Taft in a position of leadership which makes him most likely to be the nominee.

As an aftermath of the Ohio primary, it is being particularly noted that Harold A. Stassen made a discouraging showing even in the carefully selected districts in which he chose to enter delegate lists—industrial centers in which it was thought that opposition to the Taft-Hartley Act would tend to boost Stassen stock.

Some observations by John S. Knight, publisher of the Akron Beacon Journal, the Chicago News, the Detroit Free Press and the Miami Herald, on the Ohio primary, are interesting and illuminating.

Mr. Knight says: "Taft has buried the bugbear that has plagued him ever since he first announced his candidacy. Months ago, Taft admitted privately that the greatest obstacle to his nomination was the belief of many party leaders that he could not be elected.

"The vote in Ohio should dispel their fears. His showing in the industrial cities was most remarkable in view of all the tumult and opposition that has been whipped up against the Taft-Hartley Act.

"Taft had been charged with lacking 'color.' He was portrayed by his enemies as a dry, humorless reactionary in contrast to Stassen's youthful, warm liberalism. But Taft demonstrated that he is no mean campaigner. He talked issues without evasion, and slugged it out in a manner reminiful of the famous Taft-Bulkley debates in 1938. The Ohio senator is one of those rarities in public life whose mental development has not been arrested by age."

Mr. Knight, like many others, has come to the opinion that Taft would be the logical Republican nominee at Philadelphia. He says: "If the Republicans are really sincere in their desire to run on the record of the party, Senator Taft is their man. As leader of the Senate, he has carried the responsibility for all legislation enacted by the majority party. Unlike many of the other candidates, his position is known on every public issue."

Whatever may be the outcome of convention balloting, Ohio Republicans can feel assurance that in presenting Senator Taft as their choice they show preference for a man whose experience, training and qualities of statesmanship make him well qualified for the presidency.

Meat Plentiful at Higher Prices

A PECULIAR phase of the partially ended meat packing strike, which extended through 67 days, is that it resulted in no appearance of actual meat shortage in areas most likely to be affected—as competing non-striking industries seemed able to furnish sufficient meat to supply the trade.

The only noticeable effect was a tendency to raise prices—under the supply and demand formula—and now that strikers have resumed work in three of the four struck plants, there's an intimation that some further price increases are in prospect . . . unless demand drops off.

All of which may impress the consuming public as being another instance of "being caught coming or going."

Taxation Should Play No Favorites

REVELATION that General Dwight D. Eisenhower has been granted a special ruling by the internal revenue department which will save him approximately $600,000 in income taxes on the sale of his memoirs raises the question: "Just how far should a grateful nation go in honoring a hero?"

Under the action of the internal revenue bureau, when the general's book is completed it will be dated by the bureau and held for six months. Eisenhower will receive $1,000,000 for the work, but because it has been held for six months he will pay only a 25 per cent capital gains tax instead of the 80 to 90 per cent graduated income tax which the ordinary individual would pay.

Hence his tax will be about $250,000 instead of $800,000 or $900,000.

Something similar was done for Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt when she was permitted to give all she wished to charity and avoid income taxes on the gift, while ordinary citizens are permitted only a 15 per cent deduction for charity.

In the case of Gen. Eisenhower, it is also to be noted that besides his regular earnings of $25,000 a year from Columbia university, he receives $15,271 yearly from the taxpayers as a retired five-star general. The taxpayers also furnish him, at the direction of the president, a staff consisting of a major, a WAC warrant officer, and a master sergeant. Columbia university provides a home and servants in addition to the regular salary.

Now, to return to the question. There can be no doubt about the importance of Gen. Eisenhower's military service to the nation and for this he deserves just recompense. But it would seem that recompense should be somewhat in proportion to the lesser gifted or less highly placed persons who gave their arms, legs, or their health.

Granting of special impunity from paying taxes seems like a peculiarly undemocratic thing to do. The taxpayers would probably have preferred to see the general receive an outright gift voted on their behalf by duly authorized congressmen. The tax subterfuge is unfortunate, to say the least.

Looks Like a Dangerous Spot for Both of 'Em.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Stassen Move For Dixie Arouses Rivals

WASHINGTON — Political experts figure that Harold E. Stassen's new invasion of the south has served to concentrate "regular" Republican opposition to his nomination at the national convention next month. Stassen, with new Dixie headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., is openly out for southern delegates, many of whom are regarded as the property of Ohio's Senator Robert A. Taft.

Anti-Stassen forces believe the Minnesotan can be stopped in his tracks by a concerted drive. Stassen's "raids" have provided the incentive among the other camps to "gang up" on him.

The payoff will be in the "favorite son" delegations—Pennsylvania, first ballot for Senator Edward Martin; Illinois, first ballot for Gov. Dwight Greene, and California, first ballot for Gov. Earle Warren.

The play will be to get these three bumper delegations behind a single presidential aspirant, be he Thomas Dewey, Taft, or a "dark horse."

Secondary strength is Taft's hope for the nomination. Dewey also counts on released "favorite son" delegations to give him the necessary majority. Should both fail, they are determined to take Stassen down with them, and to throw the nomination to someone, as Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, or House Speaker Joe Martin of Massachusetts.

Amending Anti-Red Bill.

A STRONG attempt will be made in the House to amend the new subversive-activities control bill by outright banning of the Communist party in the United States.

The House un-American activities committee decided against outlawing the party when serious doubts arose as to the constitutionality of such a law.

Members expect to have a difficult time, however, in keeping such an amendment out of the bill if it is offered during consideration, which is expected soon.

The bill is expected to win House approval with only a handful of opposition votes, but doubt is expressed that the Senate will take up the legislation before the scheduled mid-June adjournment date.

The legislation, first to be reported in the more than three years since the committee became a regular standing committee of the House, provides for registration with the attorney general of communist-front organizations; denies federal employment to members and makes unlawful conspiracies to establish a foreign-controlled totalitarian dictatorship.

* * *

Hoffman Bill Dead.

THE HOFFMAN bill to force government agencies to supply congressional committees with "necessary" information stands little chance of final passage and probably will die with the expiration of the present Congress next January.

Reason is that virtually the only enthusiasm for the legislation is in the House. Republican leaders in the Senate have not reserved a place for the bill on their legislative schedule and there seems to be little likelihood that they will.

The House support for the bill grows out of the resentment of several House leaders, both Republican and Democratic, over the refusal of President Truman to supply information they desire.

The most noteworthy instances of this kind was the refusal of the President to surrender the letter of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover on the loyalty of Dr. Edward U. Condon, head of the Bureau of Standards. The bill did not result from this controversy, but much of the House support derived from it.

Timely Editorial

The Inflation Front.

The battle the United States is waging against world chaos and world communism has many fronts. Campaigns won on the Italian and other political fronts are important and certainly spectacular.

But if such gains are to be developed, Americans must turn with equal determination to the strengthening of another front. It is not in the Far East, nor in Latin America. It is right here at home: the inflation front. We are not winning there.

To be sure, banks are tightening upon their lending. The federal reserve system has boosted its short-term interest rate to 1¼ per cent as part of a gradual program to curb inflation without jolting the business structure.

But the total effect is hardly a barrage against inflation at the very moment the enemy is massing for the attack.—Minneapolis Star.

Encroachment on 'Rights'

By THOMAS L. STOKES

IMBEDDED in the traditions of the Republican party is the preservation of civil liberties.

This derives originally from the party's first president who abolished human slavery. Since Abraham Lincoln other Republican leaders have risen up from time to time as champions of civil rights. Affecting not only the rights of racial and religious minorities but other civil rights. At this time some Republicans in Congress are active in behalf of securing rights for Negroes still denied in some parts of our country.

Many Republicans in Congress, and Democrats, too, have rushed along like sheep toward measures supposedly aimed only at communists but which would endanger our basic freedoms.

However, it is encouraging to see that some of the party's outstanding leaders, in Congress and outside, have refused to be swept up into the hysteria of the moment. By their stand they have precipitated a great debate within the party and in the nation which is very healthy and which may eventually lead us back to sanity. This is important because of the present political power of the party and because of the likelihood that it may win control of the whole government in the November election. This makes its responsibility a grave one.

* * *

Outspoken Opponents.

SENATOR TAFT of Ohio, Senate party leader, again has exhibited refreshingly his firm adherence to civil rights, his faith in our traditions, as he has before notably and most dramatically when he directed the fight in the Senate that killed President Truman's bill to draft striking miners into the Army.

Currently he has declared not only against proposals to outlaw the Communist party, advocated most outspokenly at this time by Harold Stassen of Minnesota, a candidate like Senator Taft for the Republican presidential nomination, but he also has questioned the Mundt-Nixon bill passed the other day by the House as seemingly violating in some particulars our basic rights. It is to be hoped that the Senator will stop this dangerous measure in the Senate, and it appears that he will.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York also has enlisted himself in a virtual crusade against outlaw of the Communist party and in public speeches and in his debate with Mr. Stassen he made as fine a statement of the traditional American position as has been made.

In that debate, however, Governor Dewey airily dismissed the Mundt-Dixon bill as of little consequence. He described it as doing nothing more than pulling together laws already passed and seemed to say, in effect, why bother?

Governor Dewey might have gone further than being merely content to win the debate—in which the Mundt-Nixon bill was pitched back and forth as a convenient shuttle-cock—and answered that question.

The answer is that the danger of this measure, like that of the Hollywood moving picture investigation of some months back, is that its effect would go far beyond communism and communists to frighten and squelch sincere loyal citizens interested in measures to improve our society and in speaking and writing and carrying on organized activity for them.

That, in fact, seems to be the premeditated purpose among some of those who support the Mundt-Nixon and similar bills. It certainly contains the necessary means for that in its broad and vague definitions

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Backstage Battle Raging Against Truman

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Without benefit of publicity, a significant backstage battle is being waged regarding the question: "to nominate or not to nominate Mr. Truman."

A host of Democratic leaders would like to duck Harry's nomination, but most of them—at least from the North—are afraid to stick their necks out. They are secretly encouraging others to do the sticking, however, and they are quite delighted to hold anybody else's coat.

But despite this hesitancy, more and more Democrats are quietly lining up—with the hope of blocking nomination on the first ballot. If Truman doesn't make it on the first ballot, they figure he's licked.

Illustrating the current inside strategy is what's happening regarding California. The California delegation is pledged to Truman. Under the law it can't switch until after the first ballot. But there's nothing to prevent the California delegation from "seconding" the nomination of General Eisenhower or of anyone else.

Therefore, the strategy now being discussed is for Alabama, first state to vote at the Philadelphia convention, to nominate Eisenhower and then for California to second him.

Britain's Silken Curtain.

IN RUSSIA, it's called the "iron curtain," in England it's sometimes called the "silken curtain"—at least where British diplomacy is concerned. The implication is that the British are much smoother at diplomatic sleight-of-hand.

For instance: In London the British foreign office candidly admits it has been shipping arms and paying money to King Abdullah of the Trans-Jordan. About sixty British officers are also commanding his troops. The British foreign office also states officially that Britain will stop sending aid as soon as the United Nations takes official action banning such aid.

That sounds fine. But—

Simultaneously at the United Nations, British delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan has played the leading part in blocking UN action on Palestine.

Thus the British right hand pretends not to know what the left hand doeth.

This recalls all too vividly the double role played by the British when Henry L. Stimson was trying to stop the Jap warlords in Manchuria in 1931-32. When the USA would deliver a note of protest to the Japs, the British ambassador would deliver a similar protest—then drop around to the Japanese foreign office later to explain orally that the British didn't really mean it.

Likewise, when the League of Nations was trying to apply sanctions against Mussolini's wanton attack on Ethiopia, it was the British who sanctimoniously preached about aggression but urged the sale of oil to Mussolini. This was the one war commodity he needed most.

* * *

Neglected Army Reserves.

THE AVOWED PURPOSE of the manpower bills, now before Congress, is to train more reserves for a possible emergency. Yet the Army has been so busy lobbying for peacetime conscription, it has completely neglected the reserve program supposed to keep this manpower active after training is completed.

In fact, the Reserve Officers Association recently was forced to send its own representative before the House appropriations committee to plead for a paltry handout.

Meanwhile Secretaries Forrestal and Royall, beating the drums for billions to build up the armed services, blandly admitted that their chief aim was to stockpile manpower which would go into the reserves.

Col. C. M. Boyer (inactive) pleaded the case for the reserve officers the other day behind closed doors.

"We feel," he told a House appropriations subcommittee, "that inasmuch as the department of defense has stated that the reserves are needed in the national security picture, then the department of defense should request sufficient funds and not make it necessary for us to appear."

The defense chiefs, however, had recommended only $80 million for both Army and Air Force reserves, while Col. Boyer testified they needed at least $303 million. With such funds and proper support, the National Guard and reserves could also train new recruits and do it cheaper than the regular services, thus making the draft unnecessary.

* * *

Citizens' Army Won.

"TO US it is ridiculous," Col. Boyer told Congress, "to ask $2 billion to produce the manpower that is needed to build the reserve forces, then ask only $80 million for the reserve program itself.

"This country was founded and has maintained its existence on the theory that the security of the country must be based on a small regular force and a large citizens' army," he continued. "In every war in which this country has participated, the citizen soldier has predominated . . . Approximately 90 per cent of the fighting and dying is done by the citizen soldier."

Three years after the shooting war ended, Boyer reported, no "realistic program" has been developed for the reserves. As a result, the reservists are losing interest and dropping out.

"That is absolutely right," broke in Chairman Albert Engel, Michigan Republican. "I accepted a reserve commission in 1919, and didn't hear anything from the Army. I can say from my own experience that inactivity causes you to lose interest."

Assignment: America

Danger Lurks, Beware!

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — Following are a few notes and comments by your correspondent who considers himself a patriotic American, but who admittedly is somewhat perturbed by certain recent developments:

Note—Two scientists at the Oak Ridge Tenn., atomic laboratories have been suspended pending determination of their loyalty, while three others have been called up before the loyalty board and as many as 30 others are expected to be called before the board within the next few weeks.

A typical charge which resulted in the suspension of one scientist reads as follows: "A former landlord of yours has reported that in 1943, after you moved from the premises in which you had been residing, certain magazines and pamphlets which may have been left on the premises by you may have included a copy of the New Masses."

Comment—I must go through the books and papers in my study very carefully, and burn a great deal of material which has accumulated there during recent years. For instance, there is that copy of New Masses which someone sent me a couple of years ago. It was sent with the idea that I could write a story showing how ridiculous was one of the articles contained therein, but if mere possession of such a paper is now considered disloyalty, probably I'd better burn it, rather than explain how it came into my possession. Also, there's that copy of the communist paper, Daily Worker, which carried a sickening propaganda story attacking democracy.

I had intended showing in a story just how stupid such propaganda was, but now it seems I'd better destroy the copy. Otherwise, my loyalty may be questioned.

Note—Another scientist was suspended on disloyalty charges because of an accusation which read exactly as follows: "A neighbor has stated that she believes a close relative (of yours) by marriage is a communist."

Comment—Oh, oh! this situation is getting sticky. I come from a family of six people. My wife comes from a family of 12. Most of our brothers and sisters are married. When you spread that relationship out to the families of each of those who married into either my wife's or my families, probably I have something like two or three hundred "close relatives by marriage"—some of whom I've never met. Now if somebody happens to believe that some one of those relatives has some time showed an inclination toward communism, I'll really be in deep trouble. Looks like I'll just have to disavow all my relatives.

* * *

No Proof Required.

Note—None of the charges resulting in the suspension of the scientists were sworn. All of them were anonymous. The accused were not allowed to know the names of their accusers, nor to confront them.

Comment—Apparently we have abandoned that ancient Anglo-Saxon, American and basic constitutional law which guaranteed any citizen the right to confront his accuser "face to face." According to current happenings, it would seem that an anonymous accuser can charge a personal enemy with disloyalty, purely out of pique, and never have to prove a single charge or even stand exposure as a false witness. I must be very careful not to anger that old maid neighbor of mine down the street. Otherwise, she might charge me with being a communist—or at least a disloyal person.

Mrs. FDR Flares Back at Russian

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(INS)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt tangled with the Soviet bloc in the United Nations yesterday over United States policy in refusing visas to Russian delegates to Lake Success.

A. N. Pavlov, Russian delegate to the Human Rights commission, declared in the opening session of that 17-member body that such action by the U. S. embassy in Moscow "indicated a lack of respect for the United Nations."

The incident concerned a disclosure by Pavlov that the U. S. embassy turned down the applications of the Ukraine and Bielo-Russian delegates to the Human Rights commission.

Apparently the two men declined to make out the required questionnaire given all applicants for visas to enter the United States.

Mrs. Roosevelt, in answering the charges, said:

"If there was no delay and discrimination in entering the U. S. S. R., there would be no delay and discrimination in entering the U. S."

She mentioned the difficulty of correspondents entering Russia, then announced that instructions have gone out to all embassies to give visas to all people connected with the United Nations and said she was sure the "issue would not arise again."

Pavlov tried to get her to express the "indignation of the commission" over the incident. He charged that some commission members here are "afraid to say out loud what they think."

Mrs. Roosevelt flared back sharply rapping such a charge.

To placate the Russian, the commission decided to adjourn all important business until Wednesday afternoon.

In a Very Large Family, Everyone Must Cooperate

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D

EVERY mother, even with only one child, should expect a reasonable amount of noise and confusions. How she reacts to it may depend on her philosophy and poise, which in turn may depend heavily on her health and degree of weariness.

I'm sure the mother who wrote the following is too critical of herself and that she is carrying too heavy a physical load.

"Dear Dr. Myers:—I am the mother of six children from 16 to 3 years. Each has his own job to do each day. I get along pretty well with them although I find their noise bothers me much more now than it did when I had only two or three. I don't have the patience I did have, especially with the boys. It seems the games they play are noisy and rowdy whereas the girls take to quieter amusements.

"I do all my own work and am pretty tired and I lose patience easily. However, I think my worst problem is at meal time. Everybody seems to want to talk all at once and it turns out to be a pretty noisy affair. I know how it should be but I don't know how to achieve it. I prepare food for eight people three times a day and from necessity and saving time we all eat at the same time. I would appreciate it so much if you could help me make mealtime an enjoyable period instead of one that worries me to distraction."

As I wrote this mother, I am sure she is a far better mother than she thinks she is. I am glad you all eat at the table at the same time. In spite of the noise there—and I hope you keep the radio silent then—it is a grand family experience, from which every member must gain much, especially of a feeling of belonging to the family. Then the conversation must be very precious, even when several try to talk at once.

Let me suggest that near the end of a meal sometime soon, you and the father discuss with the children around the table ways of making the mealtime more orderly and companionable. They might have some good ideas and be ready to help put them into operation. Then I wish you would talk over with the older children in a kind of family council the work which has to be done about the home. It is fine that "each has his own job to do each day." But I doubt whether they have their just share of the jobs, especially the older ones.

You say you prepare food for eight people three times a day. Don't these children help you a great deal at this? Why should they not take sole responsibility for one meal a day and always for the dishes and for many of the cleaning and tidying jobs. I am enclosing my bulletin, "How To Teach Child To Help at Home."

By training them to help much more you could have more time for relaxation.

Perhaps you should define some types of games you won't allow the boys to play indoors. When a certain child grows excessively noisy and inconsiderate of others at meals, send him away from the group. Be decisive on such matters. This is far better than for you to feel nervous and vexed so much of the time.

HOROSCOPE

For Wednesday, May 26.

CONTINUED menace from hidden causes, aggravated by restless, nervous and intemperate action could find reactions of serious loss, affecting the business interests, the career, home and many cherished ambitions and desires. A rigid course of serene and stable energies and emotions should be firmly weighed in the balance before any systematic action be enforced. Undercurrents of the tricky, subtle and involved could wreck major objectives, with snares and schemes exacting penalties and regrettable loss of funds and peace of mind. Caution and alertness might lessen dangers.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a year in which the final results depend upon a wise, discreet, and conservative course of action, in which important decisions may have to be made in the realm of home, career and business. There are indications of a sinister, subtle and treacherous undercurrent in which much depends upon a straightforward evaluation of obscure or complicated plots and schemes. Shun all tricky entanglements, with an eye to intrigue, in making agreements or in personal correspondence. Defer action if possible.

A child born on this day may be an easy victim to lures and schemes, in which important affairs are menaced. This in personal, business and property affiliations.

Your Figure,

By IDA JEAN KAIN

If you have a weak back, you'd better be strong-minded about the way you treat it. It doesn't take much to make you a member of the Aching Back Club.

Get in the habit of sparing your back. Keep as straight a back as possible in all housework. If your kitchen sink is too low, so that you have to bend your back, put the dishpan on a rack to bring it up. If a table is not the right height, don't bend over. Sit on a stool to work—but a stool with a back on it. Or have blocks put under the table legs. And if your ironing board is too low and not adjustable—sit down to iron.

Don't tackle jobs you're not up to . . . such as pushing the rug under the grand piano! In lifting objects that you can handle, keep your back fairly straight, bend at the knees, and hoist with the powerful thigh muscles. That saves your back.

If you have a backache in the morning, check up on the springs and mattress you sleep on. An excessively soft mattress and yielding springs, or a worn-out mattress that bogs down in the middle, let your spine sag out of line. In some cases, doctors advise sleeping with a board under the mattress—it can work wonders. A board between springs and mattress is better than an uncomfortably hard mattress. It's a good idea when resting on your back to place a small pillow or rolled towel just under the bend in the knees to relieve back strain.

Sit correctly . . . back of hips pressed against chair back, lower abdominal muscles pulled up snugly. Slumping throws your spine out of alignment and the result is strain . . . and pain.

And watch your weight! Among the causes of back trouble, excess weight is given No. 1 spot by many physicians. Extra girth around the middle stretches and weakens the muscles and puts a strain on the lower back.

Be chary of calisthenics. All backward-bending movements are out. Touching fingers to toes—whether bending from an upright position or rising from a prone one is also taboo. And stay away from the old favorite of lying on the back on the floor and raising and lowering the legs, knees stiff. That strains the back.

Today's streamliners are worked out especially for the woman who has to be careful in her choice of exercises. They tone the front muscles and help correct sway-back.

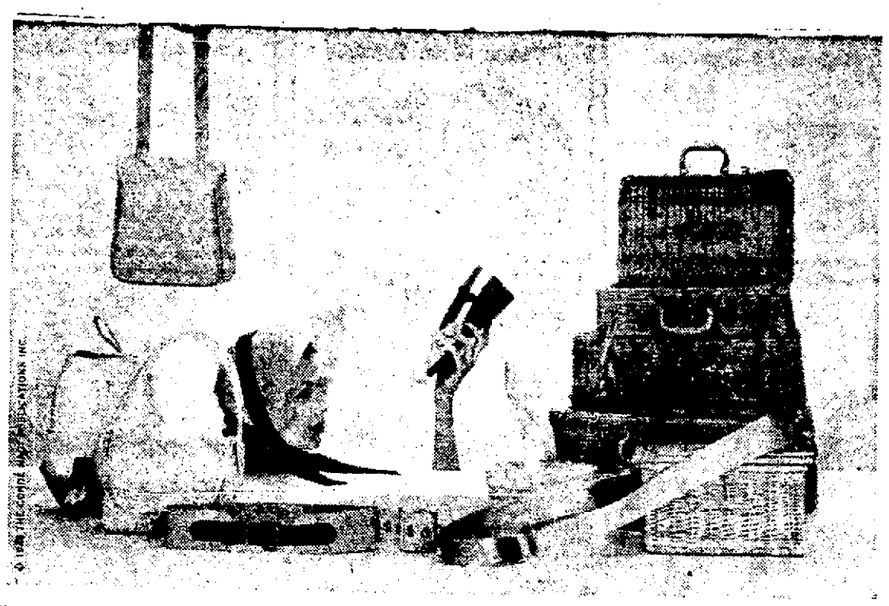
Position: Lying on back on floor, knees flexed, soles on floor.

Movement: Pull upward with the lower abdominal muscles in an effort to press small of back against floor. Follow this by flexing alternate knees to chest.

Position: The same, except you start with both knees flexed to chest.

Movement: Using your leg muscles, pull alternate knees down to chest—hard.

Stretching exercises never hurt anybody—but if you exercise on a bar, be careful not to let the small of the back sink inward. And if there is any doubt as to whether or not you should exercise, ask your doctor.



The summer-time accessories shown above are the choice of Glamour's fashion editors and featured in the June issue of that magazine. Made of straw and sister materials, varied in texture and design, these new etceteras add a charming accent to hot weather costumes of cotton.

This Summer's Bright Cottons Should Be Teamed With Straw

SISAL, wicker, raffia, woven palm—key smartly to the feel of summer fashion. This season's straw accessories complete the light, bright, airy look of cotton dresses. June Glamour insists that accessories are as important as the dress they are worn with, demonstrates by showing twenty-five $25-or-under wash dresses with carefully chosen accents.

"Accessories stamp the girl who wears them well, an individual, not just one of the crowd," says the magazine, and points out further just how much imaginative accessories can do for the simple little wash dress. The classic white shirtwaist changes face with a cluster of fresh carnations at the belt, red sandals, snowy gloves and a shadowy white hat. A simple black and white checked seersucker dresses up for an occasion—a strip of blue grosgrain rubbon crossed under the collar, an important rhinestone pin, pale blue gloves, pearl earrings, and white sandals.

Designers have outdone themselves this season in creating clothes in all price ranges that take to the tub with the greatest of ease. Washable fabrics have reached a new high in loveliness of weave, texture and coloring. Designs are deft-detail, succicent. All in all, anyone—whatever the size of her clothes budget—can achieve the starched, pinafore prettiness—the well-scrubbed, little girl appeal that only a fresh and fragrant wash dress can project, and can go on from there—with accessories—that tell the world a great deal about her tastes—and her imagination.

Order of Rainbow For Girls Holds Installation at Temple

FORMAL installation of officers of Order of Rainbow for Girls, Assembly No. 32, was held at the Masonic Temple Saturday night.

Miss Katheryn Robinson was installed worthy advisor, to be assisted by the Misses Harriet Lutz, worthy associate advisor; Marilyn Staub, charity; Bernice Bauer, hope; Betty Hopper, faith; Beatrice McCune, recorder; Colleen Stewart, treasurer; Jean Evelyn Robinson, chaplain; Mary Lou Boling, drill leader; Mary Kay Berlo, love; Rosetta Dech, religion; Margaret Reece, nature; Carol Hamman, immortality; Gloria Weimer, fidelity; Norma Lee Reider, patriotism, and Marilyn Klee, service.

Other officers are the Misses Evelyn Urich, confidential observer; Marilyn Bell, outer observer; Janet Hahn, musician; Leona Kindinger, choir director; Minerva Scott, flag bearer, and Nancy Smith, banner bearer.

The installing officers were A. E. Robinson, Miss Margaret Reed; installing marshalls, Norma Blackstone, Sue Wagner and Norma Stewart; installing chaplain, Evelyn Boehmler, and installing recorded, Edna Johnston.

The soloist for the installation service was Miss Jean Arlyss Robinson, accompanied at the piano by Miss Martha Shiplet. As Miss Robinson was installed as worthy advisor by her father the soloist sang "My Task." After receiving her jewel of office Miss Jean Evelyn Robinson presented her sister with a bouquet of red roses, a gift from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Robinson. As the roses were presented, "In the Garden of Tomorrow" was sung.

After the installation services the new worthy advisor introduced her parents and gave her mother a corsage of red roses and her father a carnation. The new honorary dad, Roscoe Mangan, was then introduced.

Installation was declared closed as the soloist sang "End of a Perfect Day."

Miss Margaret Reed, retiring worthy advisor, received her past worthy advisor's pin and a white Rainbow Bible from her officers. The pin was presented by her father, Walter Reed, and the Bible by the new worthy advisor.

The retiring officers each received a red rose as they formed a "court of roses" through which the retiring worthy advisor walked as the girls sang "Somewhere Over the Rainbow."

Past worthy advisors of Rainbow Girls present were Miss Norma Stewart, Miss Colleen Stewart, Miss Betty Hamman, and Miss Blackstone.

The room was decorated with palms and ferns and a large bouquet of gladioli, snapdragons, roses, and carnations which were later taken to the hospital and given to Miss Patsy Wilburn, a Rainbow Girl who is ill.

Miss Katheryn Robinson wore a white orchid, a gift from her mother and father, during the service. The mother advisors, Mrs. Roscoe Mangan and Mrs. Damon Smith, were each given a corsage of yellow roses.

After installation was over refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed.

The next meeting will be June 9 at the K. of P. hall.
